

What will I study?

The College at Southeastern combines biblical-theological studies with a world-class liberal arts education. Students at Southeastern may study the following subjects (and more):

- Apologetics
- Biblical Studies
- English
- History
- Humanities
- Missions
- Music
- Pastoral Ministry
- Preaching
- Student Ministry
- Theology
- Organizational Leadership

Who will teach me?

- Our students will have the opportunity to study with more than 40 Southeastern faculty.
- Our faculty members have published more than 100 books.
- Our faculty members are excellent classroom instructors who take an interest in our students.

Awards and Honors

Our faculty members have been recognized for their outstanding achievements. Here are a few examples:

- Drs. Bruce Ashford and David Nelson, awarded a grant by Yale University for their work in the area of "Faith and Culture".
- Dr. Ken Keathley, awarded a grant by the Lilly Endowment, for his work in the area of "Salvation & the Sovereignty of God: An Incarnational Approach."
- Dr. Greg Heisler, whose book Spirit-Led Preaching was named "Book of the Year" by PreachingToday.com.
- In 2008, the Faculty Scholarly Productivity Index named Southeastern Seminary as #3 on their "Top 20 Specialized Research Universities - Theology" list.

Student Accomplishments

Southeastern students have gone on to be pastors, student pastors, missionaries, teachers, entrepreneurs, professors, homemakers, administrators, evangelists, and much more. Those who have gone on to graduate school have been accepted into Master's and Ph.D. programs at the following schools:

- Oxford University
- Boston College
- Duke University
- University of Edinburgh
- Baylor University
- University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill
- And many more...

Student Life

Our residence life and student life programs provide the following offerings and more:

- Fitness Center
- Mission Trips
- Career Services
- Ministry Referral Office
- Intramural Sports
- Study Breaks
- Cookouts
- College Nights Out
- Coffee Houses
- Triangle area boasts symphonies, museums, parks, professional and collegiate sports, and more.

Scholarships & Admissions

Any Southern Baptist student attending The College at Southeastern receives the equivalent of a 50% scholarship. In addition, Southeastern offers other types of financial assistance.

Contact us now for information on attending. You can call 800.284.6317 or visit the website at www.college.sebts.edu.

